

As promised in the last column, I (Bill Levin) have been reaching out to several classmates across the country, in a revived effort to capture a broad spectrum of our class' voice. I particularly sought updates in this column from those classmates that we didn't see at the summer reunion (unfortunately, I only heard back from men).

I heard from Greg Goldberg, who lives in the Denver area and is a partner and litigation attorney with Holland and Hart. Prior to his 1.5 years with H&H, Greg worked as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in Colorado, prosecuting violent federal offenses. On the home front, Greg and his wife Vikki have 2 "beautiful" daughters, Sophie and Esther. The family spends quite a bit of time in the mountains of Colorado, as they own a home in the Breckenridge/Keystone area. Greg sees many of the Dartmouth 1990's who live in Colorado including Greg Waldbaum, Colin Sankey, Eric Butz, Sebastian Atucha and Bart and Bunky Crawford.

Chris Farrens reported from his home in Bend, Oregon (where as a high school graduate, he pledged never to return!). Chris has been married to a "fantastic" woman for 11 years and they have two boys, ages 7 and 4. The boys are into pursuits "like catching lizard and fish and breaking things whenever possible". After a recent long stint at a national accounting firm (after many career twists since graduation), Chris recently joined a small tax firm, Trimble and Everton, consisting of 6 people and 1 dog. In January of 2004, Chris joined a "whole mess of Dartmouth 1990's at the palatial Mammoth Mountain abode of Ted Carleton."

About a half-hour drive away from the Farren's, Bill Rexford and his wife Sony live in Sisters, Oregon, where Bill teaches, coaches high school football and does additional part-time work. Bill reports no children, "just enjoying the good life here in Central Oregon". He recently left a position at the Thacher School in Ojai, CA, where he worked with fellow 1990's, Rich and Crissy Mazolla. Unfortunately, Bill wasn't able to organize a Dartmouth Alumni lacrosse team in the summer of 2004 to play in the Lake Placid Tournament. However, Bill is ready to lead the charge if alumni are interested next summer. Please contact Bill with interest.

Many of us missed a confirmed Eric Fanning at our recent reunion. Eric awoke the Friday of his reunion travel with a severe jaw pain and by the end of the day had all of his wisdom teeth removed! Eric lives in the Washington, DC area and works for a national security think tank where he is Senior Vice President for Strategic Development and oversees offices around the country. Eric spends quite a deal of time on the road, including 12 countries (like Algeria and Afghanistan) in the past two months! Eric has "one very petulant dog who is increasingly intolerant to his caretaker's time away from home". My sympathies go out to the petulant pup!

Steve Rosenblatt contacted me to clear up some "humorous falsities spread throughout the Class of 1990 by Rick Hazelton over the years". Steve has been on staff for 5 years as a doctor in the General Surgery department at the Cleveland Clinic in Ohio. Outside of caring for patients, Steve and his wife Cyndi are changing about 15 diapers a day and couldn't be happier. Steve and Cyndi have a 2.5-year-old daughter, Lauren, and a twin boy and girl, Alex and Lindsey, who are 15 months. Sounds like a lot of work to this single bachelor!

Have a great and wonderful Holiday season! If you get to Boston, let me know, the drinks will be on me.
