

Dear '90,

Well, you really did it this time. After our last reunion, I was elected class newsletter editor and you've got me for five good years. I'm sure you're relieved it wasn't you!

Maybe you're feeling sympathy for me? Relieve your guilt by sending email or those green postcards to tell me what you're up to. Think of poor ol' me, with eight pages of blank paper waiting to be filled!

If I'm going to edit a newsletter four times a year, it had better be fun, so if you're willing to take a chance with me, let's push the envelope and see what happens. Here's how you can help:

Features:

"You Know You're Old When...": Oh my! 36! Have you been taken by surprise by your forgetfulness? Creaky joints? Did you do something you've done regularly for your first 35 years and all of a sudden, you can't? Send me an email and tell me what it was. (send a photo of yourself, too, while you're at it)

Profiles: Who in our class do you want to know more about? Send names!

Regular Departments:

1. Email pictures of kids, pets, a new home. Think outside the box, too. If you are a visual artist or craftsperson, send photos of your work.
3. Ditto for creative writing, or non-fiction and other written works you're particularly proud of. Especially if it exists online, we can excerpt, and send readers to the web for the rest.
4. How about recipes? Advice? A funny story?
5. Classifieds: are you moving somewhere new and looking to renew friendships? Are you Gwen Pointer and trying to find out where Lou Mabley has been for the last 14 years? Are you in need of advice? Want to sell some stuff? Looking for love?
6. Need advice? I'll find an expert to answer! No question is too small, or too silly. Some questions may be too big, however (I am only one person!).

Please keep in mind that we only publish 4 times a year. Also note that at least for the first issues, we will be printing on black and white – so keep that in mind for photos.

Disclaimer: I reserve the right to edit all submissions, and this may extend to the right not to publish something at all if I feel it's not appropriate.

For the record, try to send me submissions by the following annual deadlines:

Sept 30

Dec 31

March 31

June 30

Your newsletter editor,
Jeanhee Kim
